ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

2019 – PRESENT
FOUNDING DIRECTOR & ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR, SAMFORD UNIVERSITY
Developed and led the curriculum design for one of the first NASM-accredited Bachelor of Arts degrees in Commercial Music with 4 unique concentration areas:

- Music Production
- Music Industry
- Songwriting
- Performance

Since its launch, the program has become one of the fastest-growing majors in the School of the Arts, offering forward-thinking courses, new applied study areas, and multiple student ensembles. One of these ensembles was nationally recognized with the 2025 DownBeat magazine award for Undergraduate Performance of the Year, of which I serve as the Director.

To support this growth, I have raised over $400,000 to fund new technology spaces and establish a sustainable annual operating budget. Through partnerships with Avid and Audinate, students now graduate with industry-recognized certifications in audio engineering and AV systems application. I also oversee a team of adjunct faculty, including three-time Grammy Award winner Chris Fryar (Zac Brown Band), and lead annual student trips to major industry events such as NAMM and SXSW.

Overseeing the program also involves active recruiting, advising undergraduates, advising undergraduates, fostering community partnerships, coordinating service opportunities, mentoring student ensembles, and contributing to university governance through committee work and cross-disciplinary collaboration.
